Congratulations to the Cub Scouts, and welcome to Grenada.

While issuing congratulations, let us also issue them to Jack Dyre and Spivey Kent, who as Dyre-Kent Drug Company, are celebrating their seventeenth birthday.

Dear Mike Amrine: wherethehell did you get a copy of the GCW. Write right away.

dere mr top. hooze a lire mr top mr silys or mr jonsing. rite rite a way.

Bob Sharp, mayor-designate, entertained the aldermen-designate, except Claud Perry who was grunting at home, Tuesday night with a fine supper. We took a vote and voted unanimously to have such a meeting every Tuesday night.

Another argument against taxing the chains out of business: Krogers bought up two days' picking of peas in the frost-stricken area of South Mississippi. These peas to be marketed quickly, and at small cost, would otherwise be a total loss to the growers.

All of Grenada is "pulling" for Grenada Band now participating in the state band contest in Jackson.

Let Mike alone. Do not bother him about getting into a campaign against Bilbo. Hugh has plenty of money and plenty of time. Let Hugh be the goat. By the time Mike gets his law business going good, you birds get him into another campaign. We will need Mike in a few years. Let him save up a stake.

Many of you have expressed your appreciation for things we have tried to do, and for causes that we have tried to promote. If you really mean it, you can show your appreciation in no better, and in no more substantial way - and at no cost to yourself - than by trading with our advertisers, and in telling them "I saw it in the GCW".

The postoffice situation has not changed in the least, that is to the naked eye. Mr. Ford still has three ex soldiers from whom to select a postmaster. These three still are Donald Sharp, first; W. W. Whitaker, ex-first, now second; and Frank York, ex second, now third. This 'baby' which Mr. has to nurse has gone to squalling and dirtying his didies.

We made an earnest, honest and faithful effort to get a picture of the Gore Springs graduates for this week's paper, but did not succeed. Somebody out there get a good picture of the graduates to us for next week's issue.

Mrs. J. N. McClintock, count chairman of the Red Cross, will be glad to receive and transmit funds from local people to help relieve the distress caused by this great tragedy. She was asked to make this announcement by the national office.

Our Mr. Greenfield and Mr. Greenfield's landlord, Mr. Huffingtgon, went 'way dowyn on Swanee River Tuesday night.

Please note the large number of local pictures in this issue of the GCW. Either one of those local pictures is of Persia, Poland, Peru and Portugal, worth eight pages filled with pictures Nobody gives a damn about those countries.

Our slogan, "Grenada County New, a Specialty", has struck a responsive chord in the hearts of Grenada people, otherwise we would not be favored with such splendid patronage.

The poor supervisors and the poor aldermen have not been cussed out so far this week, but the week has not gone yet.

I guess we are going to have to reprint that article about Black Draught to meet the continued demand, which we can not supply due to exhaustion of copies.

Me and Mike. Somebody thought we had "fell out", but here we are, still kicking up our heels, and with our tails over the dashboard.

"Jim Bull" Costillow, small son of Mailrider and Mrs. Terrell Costillow is sick at home with sore throat. His main buddy, Jim Bull, is like a lost soul without the little fellow's company.

The DIShonest aldermen held two meetings this week.

Sam Gillon Well No. 1 To Begin Drilling Within Next Few Days

Mr. D. H. Williams is erecting the derrick which will be used in drilling Sam Gillin Well No. 1, on the S. E. Gillon land about thirteen miles east of Grenada.

This well will be drilled in the interest of Mr. Ed Spencer of Tulsa, Oklahoma, owner of the leases in a tract of land aggregating over ten thousand acres, as well as in the interest of the property and royalty owners of that area.

The location is very near the center of Section 17, Township 22, Range 7 East; or, in venacular more readily understood in the hills east of Rockputter Creek about half a mile northeast of Sam Gillon's home.

Up until the time of going to press no bidder had been selected from those who were bidding to do the actual drilling.

Charles Cohron Buried At Jefferson Sunday

Charles Thomas Cohron died at his home in the Jefferson community Friday morning, April 12, 1940, after an illness of several months. Funeral services were held Sunday at Liberty Baptist Church and interment was made in the church cemetery. Rev. L. D. Sellers, a former pastor of the church, conducted the services.

Mr. Cohron was a member of one of the pioneer families of the Jefferson community and was born there in 1863.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dora Castle Cohron; a daughter, Mrs. Silas Boswell of Saint Louis, Mo., three sons, Castle Cohron of Lake Charles, La., and Malcolm and C. T. Cohron, of Carrollton. Surviving also are three sisters, Mrs. Sallie Bryant, of Belzoni, Mrs. Carrie Carver of Vicksburg and Mrs. Minnie Colvin, of Texas.

Sweet Potato Plant Growers Listed

A list of all Mississippi certified sweet potato plant growers has been prepared by the State Plant Board and is now ready for distribution, says R. P. Colmer, Chief Inspector of the board. The list contains the names and addresses of 638 growers in sixty-nine counties who have met the requirements for the sale of certified plants, although the plants must still past another inspection on the bed before they are sold.

Mississippi certified potato plants are as good as those grown anywhere and are produced under very strict regulations, says Mr. Colmer. All possible precautions are observed by the growers to prevent disease. Grade-A plants are those produced from seed which showed no disease from either field or storage inspection. Grade-A plants are produced from seed grown in fields where a very small amount of disease was present, but the diseased plant were removed and the utmost care used to insure the bedding of healthy seed. The finding of a single hill of stem rot on a property will cause all potatoes from that property to be listed as Grade-B, although they may be excellent for seed purposes. Furthermore, plants from local certified growers reach the buyers in fresher, better condition than those shipped long distances.

List of certified potato plant growers in each county have been prepared and a copy will be sent to anyone asking for it. Requests should be addressed to the State Plant Board at State College.

Congratulations to Jack Erikson of Water Valley, the old lady's nephew, upon a promotion to the Planning Commission of the State Highway Department. He will leave Michigan City, where he is now with the department, and report to Jackson, the scene of his new duties, Monday.

We added another good-looker to our list last week in the person of Mrs. Thelma Harris, of Grenada Clinic.

There is serious talk of blacktopping No. 7 to Greenwood. Better spend that money on extending No. 8 to the west.

How many boys have you to spare to feed into the Hell in Europe?

We enjoyed a nice radio program over our old buddy, WGRM, Sunday afternoon. Wonder how long WGRM is going to stay over in the swamp?

Cotton Ticking Available To Needy Farm Families of This County

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation and AAA have made cotton and cotton ticking available to low income farm families with which to make cotton mattresses.

Fifty pounds of cotton and ten yards of ticking are available to each low income form family upon their application, and agreement to make this cotton into mattresses under the supervision of the Extension Service. Only one mattress is available per family.

A "low-income farm family" means any family having a total income for the calendar year 1939 of not more than $400, at least one half of which was derived from agricultural occupation. The total income is the cash income received, or that was earned, and is collectible, plus the local market value of any unsold farm products raised for sale or received as payment for services or rent and held for sale. As used in this connection, the word "family" means two or more persons having a common or pooled income and living together as an independent economic unit in one household.

Families who have received through other government agencies will not be eligible to receive a mattress under this program. The applicant receiving the cotton and ticking must make the mattress in a designated center. The applicant must pay for needles, threadtufts, in all counties.

The making of the mattresses will be under the general supervision of the Home Demonstration Agent. Detailed information on this project can be obtained from the Countty Agent or Home Demonstration Agent. If you are interested, application should be made at once.

MRS. VELMA NEELY,
Home Demonstration Agent

CHILD HEALTH DAY 1940

Friday, May 3rd

Let us gather together in the celebration of a great event—Child Health Day. Of all that we hope to be all that we cherish, nothing is closer to our hearts than the health and welfare of our children. So save your dimes, quarters and dollars for Tag Day, May the third. The parade will begin at 10:20 a. m. after which be prepared for the tagging.

May Day has for many years been used as an occasion for calling attention to the importance of health of school children. Back in 1928, May Day was officially designated by Congress as a special health day.

The king and queen of Health will be crowned in the school gymnasium at 2:30 Friday, May 3rd.

Who is this king?

Who is the queen?

Speed children on the road to health!

BISHOP GREEN HERE SUNDAY

Bishop Wm. Mercer Green, will deliver one of his deep spiritual sermons following confirmation services at All Saints Episcopal Church this Sunday, April 28. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Let these old and middle age dudes who are promoting this war fight it. As for me, I had enough of war in the foolish, futile and fallacious war of 1914-1918.

Let him who STARTS the war FIGHT the war. Here we are about to get into a squabble about the Malay Peninsular, when not one out of a dozen knows whether it is part of New Zealand or a principality in Tibet.

Aint they sweet.

Sister Morgan and her beau made a trip to Sanitorium one day last week. Even though there were no bridges burned on 51, they came back thru the Delta, no doubt on the theory that the longest way home is the sweetest way around.

We added another good looking matron to our mailing list last week in the person of Sister C. H. Smith. We take all kinds who have cash money, but get more pleasure from getting the good lookers, naturally.

Bob Caffey Died Saturday, Buried Sunday Afternoon In Providence Cemetery

Robert Wilson Caffey, known affectionately by countless friends as "Uncle Bob", died in the home of his son, Hemphill Caffey, near Lambert Saturday morning, April 20, 1940.

He was born on December 14, 1856 at the Caffey old homestead, near historic Providence, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caffey. The Caffeys have been part and parcel of this community since this country was settled over a century ago.

"Uncle Bob", was a dominant factor not only in his own community of Providence but in the county generally for three-quarters of a century. He owned considerable land and took part, as a leader, in church, community and political affairs. He was a man of jovial disposition. If he was in jovial company, but if folks wanted to get rough and ugly, Uncle Bob was ready for that too. He was a life long member of the Providence Church and was an officer in the church. His wife, Mary Alice Long Caffey, died in 1926. For the past four years, he has lived with his sons near Lambert, but up until last Christmas, he was an active fisherman and an ardent squirrel hunter, being successful in both sports.

He was buried at Providence Sunday, April 21, 1940. The Rev. F. Z. Duffstatter conducted the services. Six grandsons, Clayton and Jewel Carpenter, Clifford and Calvin Johnson and Ray and Travis Caffey served as pallbearers.

Survivors include one brother, Walter Caffey, of Montgomery, Ala.; three sisters, Mrs. Lilla Bowen, of Duck Hill, Mrs. Addie Leverett of Hughes, Arkansas and Mrs. Ella Leverett of Memphis; three sons, Horace and Hemphill Caffey of Lambert, and Henry Caffey of Holcomb; and three daughters, Mrs. J. E. Carpenter, of Providence, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, of Winona and Mrs. Fonda Rowland, of Charleston.

The writer feels a deep personal loss in the death of his old friend, Bob Caffey, and extends to the bereaved ones his deepest sympathy.

Cub Scout Advancement Program Explained

Advancement is a very vital part of the Cubbing Program. Success, progress, and a sense of worth and mastery, advancement these are essential to mental health. Since to the boy, life is primarily an adventure in growth, in having new experiences, in learning about interesting things—advancement itself is a fundamental and natural thing.

This advancement is recognized in Cubbing by the Achievement Council. This Achievement Council awards rank insignias and gold and silver arrow points to Cubs just as the Court of Honor Awards merit badges to Scouts.

The Cub organization is composed of Packs which correspond to Boy Scout Troops. These Packs are divided into Dens under supervision of Den Mothers and Den Chiefs. They are responsible for the details of Den operation. The Cubmaster has general direction over the entire Pack and it is his work to keep the entire organization functioning smoothly.

When a boy joins the Cub group he is first classed as a Bobcat. He remains under this classification until he has passed all the necessary requirements that will entitle him to the next higher rank which is the Wolf. When he has met all Wolf rank requirements he is awarded a Wolf insignia at one of the regular Achievement Council meetings.

In order to become a Wolf Cub the boy must pass nine tests explained as follows:

(1) FLAG—He must know the Pledge of Allegiance and other information about the flag.

(2) FEATS OF SKILL—He must be able to do simple athletic stunts.

(3) STRENGTH—Personal cleanliness and health habits are learned and practiced. A medical examination must be passed before this test is completed.

(4) HOME—Home chores and orderliness are passed in this test.

(5) HANDICRAFT—Some simple article of handicraft such as model boat, airplane, etc., is required to pass this test.

(6) COLLECTIONS—Such as soils, stamps, leaves, pictures, etc.

(7) SCRAPBOOK—On any subject

Grandma went to the woods in the Springtime and procured roots and herbs to make a Spring Tonic for the whole family. That is a thing of the past, there is now no need of it, all you have to do is go to the drug store and get whatever medicine you might need. However, if you are cranky, ill at ease, and think that the world and all therein has gone to the devil, you should take a trip in the woods, see the beauty of nature, and get a new start on life. The trip will well be worthy your time: it will do you more good than the highly advertised 'cure alls'.

History of Grenada Cub Scout Pack Began In September, 1936

At the September 1936 meeting of the P. T. A. Superintendent Rundle of the Grenada City Schools requested Mrs. P. T. Lagrone, P. T. A. president, to bring before the group the suggestion that it organize and sponsor a Cub Pack for boys of the 9-10-11 year age group.

The main reason for organizing such a group was to prepare young boys to be better Scouts.

The matter was brought before the P. T. A. and it was unanimously agreed that the group would sponsor the organization. Mrs. L. D. Boone was made chairman of a committee to secure the Cub charter from the Boy Scouts of America, and she has been the guiding spirit of the Pack since its inception.

Mr. L. H. Stubblefield, then assistant County Agent, was elected the first Cubmaster and remained in this office until he was transferred to Charleston. Under Cubmaster Stubblefield the Pack grew to a membership of 57 members divided into two dens. One den was located at the home of Mrs. H. A. Alexander where Mrs. Alexander served as Den Mother, and still serves in that capacity. L. D. Boone, J. served as first Den Chief of the Alexander Den which is designated as Den No. 1.

Den No. 2 was located at the home of Mrs. Lucy Duncan, and Mrs. Duncan served as Den Mother for over two years. Benny Cohen was the first Den Chief of this Den. At the expiration of Mrs. Duncan's term as Den Mother Den No. 2 was moved to the home of Mrs. L. C. Welker with Benny Cohen remaining as Den Chief.

Prof. John Watson of the Grenada City Schools replaced Mr. Stubblefield as Cubmaster and Leon Provine was made Den Chief of Den No. 1.

Cubmaster Watson remained in this capacity for a year until the heavy duties of his school work forced him to give up this work.

In August 1939 C. E. Lockett was elected to replace Prof. Watson and is still the Cubmaster.

In Den No. 1 Emmett Barrentine was made Den Chief replacing Leon Provine and Bobby Townes was made his assistant. These two boys still serve as leaders of Den No. 1.

Larry Noble replaced Benny Cohen as Den Chief of Den No. 2 and Roy Honeycutt was made his assistant. These two boys are now serving as leaders of this Den.

From the original enrollment of 57 the Pack dropped to its present strength of 36. This was caused by a good number of the boys having reached the age limit of 12 years and being transferred into the Boy Scout Troop; some other boys moving away from Grenada, and the usual number of boys who dropped out for various other reasons.

CUBS PROMINENT IN MARDI GRAS FESTIVITIES

Cubs Billy Parham, Hal Pleasants, Joe Boone, Malcomb Lawrence, and Bobby Alexander took prominent parts in the Mardi Gras Ball held in Grenada in February.

Billy Parham and Hal Pleasants were heralds of the king and Joe Boone and Malcolm Lawrence were pages.

Bobby Alexander who served as Junior King for 1939 was a member of Senior King Andrew Carothers' court.

BOBBY TOWNES REPLACES BOBBY ALEXANDER AS JUNIOR MARDI GRAS KING

Elected in February, 1939, to rule as Junior Mardi Gras King for the year, Cub Bobby Alexander relinquished his throne to the newly elected king, Bobby Townes, assistant Den Chief, on February 2nd of this year.

The Junior Mardi Gras King is elected each year at a Junior Ball held in conjunction with the Senior Mardi Gras Ball, and it is quite a distinction for the Cubs to have been so prominently represented.

CUB SAFETY COUNCIL

With the co-operation of elementary school authorities, a Cub Safety Council was formed last fall. For a period of eight weeks six Cub Scouts gave weekly talks to children in the elementary grades on various phases of safety such as playing in streets, electricity, fire, swimming, stop lights, etc.

Each Cub had one grade assigned to him for this work, and the talks were very well received.

At the end of the eight weeks period the fifth grade, taught by Miss Strahan, had enjoyed the talks so much that they wrote letters of thanks to the Cubs.

The Council was composed of Cubs Joe Boone, Billy Parham, Conrad Welker, Bruce Austin, Bobby Alexander, and Malcolm Lawrence.

SCOUTS ACTIVE IN CUB WORK

The Boy Scout troops's baby brother is the Cub Pack, and in order to correctly prepare the Cub for Scouting it is necessary that the Den leaders be chosen from the ranks of Scouting.

The Scouts selected for Cub leadership work must be thoroughly trained in the principles of Scouting and have the ability to handle the smaller boys in both work and play.

The Grenada Cub Pack is progressing nicely under the efficient leadership of Den Chiefs Emmett Barrentine and Larry Noble, and Assistant Chiefs Bobby Townes and Roy Honeycutt.

Scouts Jimmy Boone and Louis Hester are working with the Pack in order to gain experience for Den Chief work. Before a Scout becomes an Eagle Scout he is asked whether or not he has ever been a Den Chief and most Scouts are proud to be able to answer affirmatively.

Scout Giles Patty, recently moved to Grenada, has his application in for den leadership work and will be placed as soon as there is an opening.

CUBS TO BE GRADUATED INTO SCOUT TROOP

After having satisfactorily completed the entire Cub course, Cubs Bobby Alexander, Billy Parham and Hal Pleasants will be promoted into Troop 15 of the Boy Scouts soon after the first of May.

A regular Cub graduation ceremony will be held for these boys. It will be the first ever held in the history of the Grenada Pack.

GRENANDA PACK PLACES IN PREVIOUS RALLIES

Grenada Cubs won 3rd place at the Cub rally held in Greenwood in 1938 and 3rd place at the rally in Cleveland in 1939.

DEN MOTHERS AWARDED CERTIFICATES OF APPRECIATION

At the Cub Achievement Council held on the 27th of February, Mrs. H. A. Alexander, Den Mother of Den No. 1 and Mrs. L. C. Welker, Den Mother of Den No. 2 were awarded certificates of appreciation for their excellent work with the Cubs.

Mrs. L. D. Boone chairman of the P. T. A. committee on Cubbing made the awards.

CUB COMMITTEE ACTIVE

Responsibility for a successful Cub program depends entirely on the committee members of the sponsoring organization.

The Grenada Cub Pack is sponsored by the P. T. A. and its Cub committee is composed of the following: Mrs. L. D. Boone, chairman; Mrs. Ell Whitaker; Mrs. C. H. Smith; Mr. L. D. Boone; Mr. Harry Burkley; and Supt. John Rundle, ex-officio member.

This committee has been very busy for the past month or so arranging all necessary details for the Area Rally to be held here this week end. Plans are complete for giving the visitors free lunch. Visiting mothers and fathers will be entertained at the rally by Cub mothers and fathers.

In addition to details for the rally, this committee, through its chairman, keeps in close touch with the Cub program for the year and helps substantially in making the work successful. The Cubmaster makes frequent reports to the committee and is always counselled by it on matters of policy.

At present the committee chairman and Cubmaster are working on tentative plans that will greatly aid Cub work in the future. These plans will be made public as soon as possible.

GRENADA PACK INSPIRES THEME FOR 1940 CUB RALLY

A little white pig carved out of soap, a model train, a leaf and bird picture collection and other handicraft displays—all the work of Grenada Cubs—exhibited at a Cub Achievement Council last fall started the whole thing.

Scout Executive B. E. Norris attended the Council and was so impressed by the Grenada Pack's handicraft work that he decided to do something about it. Within a very short time after Executive Norris attended this Achievement Council, all Cub leaders were notified that the 1940 Cub Rally would center around handicraft work.

This is especially interesting in view of the fact that previous rallies were predominately athletic whereas the forthcoming rally will have an evenly balanced program of both athletics and handicraft.

Congratulations, Cubs

The Grenada County Weekly takes pleasure in dedicating this issue to the Cub Scouts and to the men and women of Grenada who have worked so earnestly and so faithfully to promote the welfare of the Cub Scout organization. It takes pleasure also in providing almost a page and a half, liberally illustrated with pictures of local Cub leaders, of its space in publicizing the impending Cub meeting as well as in publicizing Cubdom in general.

All of the Cub reading matter in this issue, including the well-merited bouquets, was prepared by Mr. "Chick" Lockett. We were merely the publishers. It was he whom we came directly in contact with during the preparation of this issue, but we well know that, in the background, was the splendid and unselfish group of Cub Mothers without which Cubdom, as well as everything else worthwhile in the world, would vanish from the earth.

To the Cubs and to the people interested in Cub work who will be guests of this city Saturday, may we offer warm welcome to Grenada, as well as Godspeed in their splendid work.

Overlooking the Obvious Thing

The Governor and the legislature are wrangling over the problem of getting $43,000,000 from the people of this poor state, a state that can hardly afford to pay half that amount in state taxes.

All of them seem to overlook the obvious fact that poor folks have to have poor ways, that a poor state cannot afford the things that a rich state can afford. Mississippi with the lowest percapita wealth and the lowest per-capita income cannot afford the luxuries that rich states can afford. The "average man" in Mississippi cannot have for himself and for his family the things that the average man of other states can have, for the very obvious reason that he is poorer than his richer brother. Mississippi is composed of these average, or really sub-average taxpayers, and therefore should try to live in accordance with its income.

An individual, if he is honest, will scale his expenses to his income, and will not try to live beyond his income. Should he do otherwise for long, he will go busted.

The obvious thing for the elected representative to do is to CUT EXPENSES, rather than devote their time to finding new things and new individuals to burden with taxes. If Mississippi cannot afford free school books - and many believe that it cannot - the obvious thing to do is to do without them. If Mississippi cannot afford increased pensions for the aged - and many believe Hugh White reached the limit - the obvious thing to do is to leave pensions as they are, or reduce them. Fundamentally, Mississippi, like the individual, should have nothing that it cannot afford to pay for.

Mississippians have sat supinely by and permitted state expenses to rise from $22,000,000 under Conner to $38,000,000 under White, and seem content if they can hold Johnson down $42,000,000. Have we no hope of reduced state expenses? Is Mississippi to experience greater and greater tax burdens as time goes on? Why cannot our representatives try to REDUCE the state expenses, which is the obvious thing to do?

Every man who ever ran for governor, including Governor Johnson, the present governor, promised economy in government. "When are we to get economy in government", is the question on many lips?

Drifting Toward War

The drift of this country is toward war, and do not be mistaken.

The drift of this country's thought is toward participation on the Allies' side in the bloody conflict now raging in Europe.

If America is drawn into this senseless war, the toll taken by Mars will be your boy and my boy and thousands of other boys. Mars has no use for middle age men and for old men, but he demands fresh, strong manhood.

This nation sent to Europe in 1918 the flower of its young manhood in the futile, fallacious and foolish hope "To make the world safe for democracy." Did it make the world safe for democrac? How many democracies are left on earth - just twi, France and the United States, and they are democracies in name only. While the salvation of democracy was the expressed reason for America's participation, the real, fundamental reason was the salvation of the investments that international bankers had made in the Allies' cause. We fought to make safe the dollars of the blood-suckers who themselves never got within 3,000 miles of danger and that's the pitiful, unfair part of ALL wars - the men who die are the men least interested in the outcome while the men who wax fat upon the spoils and profits of war never see or participate in the horrors of war.

As an humble editor of an humble little newspaper it is our sincere belief that Americans should stay in America and mind their own business, in the meantime seeing that America's defense measures are built to formidable proportions, so formidable that an enemy will not dare approach our shores.

Killing the Geese

Senate Bill No. 405 officially entitled "An Act To Levy a Privilege Tax Upon Each Person. . . Public Utility . . ." would be more appropriately named if it were called "An Act To Finish Killing the Geese That Are Laying The Golden Eggs of Taxation."

This bill places a one per centum tax on the GROSS receipts of common carriers, bus lines, telephone companies, power companies and privately owned water systems. This bill is worse than a former proposal, levying a ten per centum tax on these receipts, for this bill is likely to become a law, and the other proposal was too ridiculous to receive serious consideration.

This tax cannot be passed on to the consumer and, therefore, must come from the net profits, if any, of the utility. In this respect, if no other, it is different from other taxes placed on gross receipts.

This law, if enacted, would impose upon the principal telephone company operating in Mississippi additional taxes of nearly $50,000.00. This company publishes figures which show that its tax bill is considerably larger in this state than its net earnings. Any additional taxes would probably mean the abandonment of the company's plan to extend its lines and its service into the rural areas, where such service is badly needed. This bill will go a long way toward finishing off the old goose that pays about $800,000 in taxes in this state.

This bill, if enacted, would impose upon the power company which serves this section an additional burden of $80,000. This company already contributes about a million dollars worth of golden eggs to the body politic. This additional load cannot be shifted to the consumer, but this additional load must be carried by the net profits of the company; in short, this tax would be paid at the expense of the stockholders. This additional tax might "wind up" the old goose that is contributing a cool million to the general welfare. At best, it would mean a discontinuance of any extension into areas badly needing service.

The Lord only knows what it would do the bus lines who would have ti kick in one per centum to their gross receipts from INTRA STATE tickets. Certainly it would mean serious curtailment of "local" service, the service which benefits Grenada and such towns as Grenada - the service that brings into the larger towns the people from nearby communities. It would, at best, mean retardation to expansion of service along marginal routes - the routes that now are served by NO transportation system, if not actual abandonment of service on the marginal routes. This might mean the death of another goose that has laid many a golden egg for the commonwealth.

This line of argument might be extended to include the railroads and the other victims of this proposed tax, but what is the use. The tale is the same for all.

In our opinion, these valuable egg-layers should be encouraged to lay more eggs, instead of being killed, or starved nearly to death. Nobody ever got a dead goose to lay an egg. No tax gatherer can get taxes from something that has GWTW.

Please Do Not Resign, Governor

We have become alarmed by reading in the daily papers a threat from Governor Johnson that he would resign if certain things did not happen.

We have been somewhat critical of the Governor's program and have had some constructive things (some say, harsh) to say about it.

No doubt we have been numbered, if there has been a numbering, among the enemies of this administration.

But please don't resign, Governor Johnson, for we are smart enough to know who will be governor if you resign.

Post Office Situation

A fellow here laughed last week and said he guessed Mr. Ford would go ahead now and make an appointment to the postmastership in Grenada, basing his logic on the fact that, since Mr. Abernethy was "out" due to illness, Mr. Ford would now have no opposition, and so would have no reason, logical or otherwise, to delayy the appointment beyond election - when there would be no election with no one opposing Mr. Ford.

This fellow laughingly said also that he did not know which one of the three ex-soldiers Mr. Ford would appoint, but that he knew he he had to appoint one of them, that the CSC confined Mr. Ford's choice to the "high three", each of whim happened to enjoy so-called veterans' preference.

This fellow, continuing his laughing, said he was glad he was not in Mr. Ford's shoes

What do YOU guess?

Anyway, He Is An Exception

Whether we like what Governor Johnson is trying to do or not, we are bound to say that he is trying to do some of the things he promised to do, and he thereby establishes a precedent.

Bilbo promised brick roads and a book plant, among other things, and the state received neither.

Conner promised "For Rent" signs on the doors of many offices used by Bilbo's hordes. Instead, if he used any signs at all, he used the "Wanted To Rent, Big Offices" signs.

Hugh promised one dollar car tags, and several other things that he promptly forgot, once in office.

Of course, Paul apparently has forgotten a number of things, including economy in government, but he, at least, has remembered several of his promises and is trying manfully to carry them into effect.

"THERE'S A VACANT SPOT IN THE TROPHY CASE"

(Editorial)

There's an outstandly vacant spot in the trophy case: the North Central Regional Cup is gone. We have one more shot at it next year and the chances are good for our getting it back.

We started losing the cup way back in January when the debate lost to Winona because of the judges' ignorance of a law. Then in March we overcame this handicap by the works of our literary contestants who gave us an eleven point lead. We are proud of these contestants who won first places: Kenneth Nail, William Winter, James Thomas, Bobby Weir, Mary Lou Cullen, Katherine Jones, Rice York, Maxine Tillghan and T. W. Goodwin. And those who got second places: Thomas Bell, Lucy Moss, and Ann Duncan.

Winona track team got ahead with an eight point lead. Our contestants in platform events were excellent but didn't appeal to the judges as well as the Winona contestants who received another lead that night.

Interest in Spring athletics was decidedly in the ascendency this year: we had the best tennis teams in several years; the boys' track team had better material than usual, and Martha Cullen of the seventh grade had athletic ability beyond her years. We are assured of a good football team next year and will lose only two members from the tennis teams. The total absence of high school girls on the track team was tragic.

We are certain of a polished debating team next year for there remains John Keeton, Jr., Rogers Pleasants, Thomas Bell, Billy Semmes, of this year's declamation fame. The piano contestant, Dorothy Talbert, who placed fourth this year when only a sophomore contesting with seniors will surely do honor to the school next year.

Remember, next year is the last chance we have at the cup.

GIRL OF THE WEEK

She is a model of friendliness, graciousness, and brunette beauty—she is rather quiet and gentle and a perfect lady at all times. The teachers recognized in her the qualities desirable for admission into the Honor Society. She is a splendid student—especially in the commercial department. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves Club and the Pep Squad for several years now. Since Hubert Nicholson started working in Dyre-Kent, she has taken a liking for cold drinks, etc., and has taken a liking for Tie Plant. If you havent already guessed, we were referring to Frances Davis, an outstanding senior.

BAND CONCERT

Thursday night, the Grenada Band under the direction of Mr. Roger Dollarhide, gave an informal concert for the Band Boosters in the schopl auditorium. The pieces played were those to be played at the contest to be held in Jackson today and tomorrow. The pieces were: "Scenes from the Sierras", "Men of Ohio," "Niobe," "Compatriots of America", and "Azalea", the composition that is to be used in the student-directing contest, our representative being Joyce Fleming. We hope to report favorably concerning our place in the contest next week.

HONOR SOCIETY BANQUET

Thursday evening, in the home of Thomas Bell, the local chapter of the National Honor Society assembled for a banquet.

After the banquet, the members played Chinese Checkers and "How to win friends and Influence People". To enjoy the evening with the members were the sponsors, Miss Mary Haynes, Miss Shows, Miss Turner, and Miss Hammond.

ALUMNI NEWS

Frank York, of last year's senior class was recently made a member of the exclusive Colonel's Club at State and put on the staff of the "Reflector". His greatest honor, however, was being made a member of the honorary engineering fraternity. We are not surprised to hear of these honors accorded to Frank, for here he was a didigent, thorough and popular student.

In the state-wide literary events, two of our students brought recognition to our school. Ann Duncan placed second in World History, and James Thomas placed third in Latin II—each of these are sophomores, and outstanding students. We congratulate you.

BOY OF THE WEEK

Students graduate every year; someone comes to high school the next year and takes his place; and he is forgotten. Every once in awhile there comes a student who can never be replaced.

Dick Rule is one of these boys. He has honored our school again and again. He has never declined to participate in any project for the amelioration of the school—by many he is regarded as the most valuable student in extra-curricula activities. Although he is always engaged in a large number of activities, he always does each task with uniform excellence—there are very few failures in his history (except in algebra, he means). He has a most pleasing and engaging personality, a handsome and meticulliously neat appearance. As a public speaker, he has no superiors in the state as was evidenced by his rating first in the State-Wide declamation contest for Sons of the American Legion; as a debater, he is excellent and was on the team that tied with Canton for first place in the state last year. As president of the band, second chair French horn player, and drum major, he is very valuable to the band and Mr. Dollarhide; in the Presbyterian choir and glee club, he is a singer of wide renown—he was in the district champion quartette last year and has sung on many occasions by popular request for a long time—ever since he sang to the accompaniment of Joe Steele's banjo as a little boy. He is an important member of the Music Club and was a Boy Scout several years.

Dick is welcome everywhere because of his friendliness and keen sense of humor. As an actor he has no superior in Grenada high and this notable talent of his is to be developed further next year when he attends Los Angles School of Dramatics in California. It seems impossible for Dick ever to be mediocre. No, we will never get over missing Dick Rule in high school.

Three Bouquets

He is not human who does not respond with an inward thrill to the silvery laughter of happy, care-free children at play, safe in a peaceful country made secure by right thinking men.

In such a country there are men full of the milk of human kindness, deeply conscious of their responsibility for the future well-being of all little boys and girls. Such men, even thtough the country be richly endowed with a priceless heritage of Christian principle, seek greater and better means of giving to youngsters a happy and normal childhood—a childhood in which their little feet may anchor to sturdy foundations of character that will allow them to grow into beautifully rich adult ideals worthy of any child's emulation.

Such a man is in our midst, and his influence on, and for, boys and girls is nothing short of startling in the power of its simplicity. Without him there would have been no Scout organization in Grenada. With him Scouting has progressed to an enviably high level. His task has not been easy. In a community not overly Scout conscious he has fought many long, and sometimes losing, battles to keep Scouting interesting and alive. Even to the subordination of his school work has he been known to place Scouting when the necessity arose. In his language, Scouting CAN'T fail. I must go onward and upward says the powerful force of his enthusiasm more eloquently than any words could ever tell. His love for and devotion to young people have been felt deeply by the writer both as a student under him and as a coworker in the Scout program.

To you, Mr. Rundle, we give this little bouquet of words, tied with a ribbon of utter sincerity. For we know that when we speak from our heart we speak for all those who are still little boys and girls to you.

From dawn to dusk, rain or shine hot or cold, she is as constant as time. A perfect pattern of Christian service and devotion to her young charges is she. No task is too small or service too menial for her to render when necessary.

Throughout her long period of useful devotion to the boyhood and girlhood of our community she has endeared herself to old and young alike by her sincere and unswerving loyalty to her little ones. She doesn't even suspect that her gentle nature has left eternally lasting imprints on hundreds of lives that have been made richer for having come under her influence.

For several years before we entered school as a first grader we spent many childhood hours in her home, and came to love her almost a sone of the family. Our childish love and frank devotion have diminished none with the years.

And now that our Cub work necessitates frequent association with her we appreciate her more than ever. She has made our work much easier and has nevir failed to help us in every way possible. Characteristically, she has gone out of her way to co-operatet with us—a fact that within itself has contributed largely to the success of the Cub work.

So, for you, Miss Lizzie Horn, our fervant prayer is that your labors of love will continue to cast their radiating usefulness and influence on your "children" for years to come.

From out of the North she came. She came to us charged with an animation for living and doing that would not stay idle. She brought a well-ordered naturalness that immediatelyy set about to establish a happy home for her family in a strange community.

In seeking to identify herselef with worthwhile outside activities she soon became an active worker in the P. T. A. Her work in this group has become so outstanding that she now holds a high district office.

She has been for some time a great influence in Scout work. Through her persistence and determination the Cub Scout work has grown and progressed. She is, and has been, an inspiration to all Cub leaders. Much of her time has been given to working out details of worthwhile Cub and Scout activities.

Tireless worker in her church, interested in all young people, active in all worthwhile community projects, in these she finds outlets for her inexhaustible supply of energy.

Such women as you, Mrs. Boone, are needed to make the world more kind, and we are better for your being here.

HOW CUBBING CAME TO BE

As people saw the far reaching results made possible by Scouting and other movements, the question arose—"why not something for younger boys?" This demand became so articulate and strong that the Boy Scouts of America under an enabling grant from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial retained a specialist to go forward with a careful three year program of preliminary research, program build ing and writing of the needed books—This covered the nature of character, the characteristics of boys of 9, 10, 11, their interests and hobbies, their reading, their games. This process also involved the censorship and counsel of a select group of 13,500 leading educators, psychologists sociologists, boy workers, Scouters, and others, as well as an advisory contact with leading specialists in seven other countries.

This pre-Scout program officially adopted by the National Council is the result.

GRENANDA CUBS HAVE INTERESTING HANDICRAFT AND HOBBY DISPLAY FOR RALLY

One of the most outstanding displays of Cub Handicraft and Hobby work will be shown in the Grenada Cub booth at the Delta Area Rally to be held in the Grenada High School gymnasium this coming Saturday.

Especially interesting is the post card collection of Charles Smith. There are 48 cards in this collection, each one showing a picture of a state capitol. Charles Smith will also display some attractivt burnt wood etchings.

Talbert Yeager will have a very attractive collection of leaves.

Bobby Alexander will show a model airplane made by himself and collections of stamps and coins.

Joe Boone has a ver yinteresting stamp collection and a most instructive scrapbook of Cub publicity. He will also display a "'Mikey Mouse" doorstep made and painted by himself.

Bobby Burkley will exhibit a very interesting collection of match covers, an attractivt scrapbook of travel folders.

Norfleet Caig will show an attractive arranged scrapbook of airplane pictures.

Conrad Welker will have collections of coins, stamps, and bird pictures.

Hal Pleasants will have on display a set of flags of five different countries which he made and a bill folder which he designed.

George Garner will have a set of bird drawings which he drew and colored.

These are but a few of the items to be displayed in the Grenada booth. Many more objects just as attractive as trose mentioned above will be shown.

AIMS AND PURPOSES OF CUBBING

The Cub Program provides for the 9-10-11 year old boys an attractive, character influencing program of interest-gripping leisure-time activities, which, through association with other boys and picked leaders, shall bring to these boys in their natural home and neighborhood situations: 1. More of that joy of living which is the soil in which normal character grows. 2. Chance to do with and for others, thus involving social practices habits, and attitudes essential to good citizenship. 3. Example of manly ideals, the boy's voluntary obligation to which ideals are reinforced by group approval—and by opportunities to practice them. 4. Chances to bear rtsponsibility under desirable conditions of learning by doing with satisfying encouragment therefor. 5. Opportunities for hobbies, handicrafts and skills with stimulating advancement recognitions for achievement.

60 definite emphasis upon health factors and habits.

The principles of Cubbing as stated above are complete within themselves and art not to be confused with the fundamentals of Scouting. While the Cub Program trains the youngster to be a good Scout, it in no way enroaches on the Scout Program. The focal point of Cub activity is the home and neighborhood with natural play groups forming the dens. Cubbing is a leisure-time game for boys and must not be formalized away from a game. The tests and achievements which a Cub passes are centered around the normal curiosities of boys of this age, and all the test may be passed easily by boys as they play together under supervised leadership.

MT. NEBO NEWS

Miss Betty Carter, reports a delightful week-end visit to her friend and classmate at Hillman College, Miss Frances Phillips of Gore Springs. Miss Betty has just finished teaching a most successful term of school here.

And we too contacted uncle "Sip" by asking, are you fully sold on new deal? he answered, "yassah boss, Mr. Phil Cook say, that on top of paying us to plant lagoons to trap nitrogen, giviment gwine build us durarges to park our wagons, in and furnish us inquest burners to burn sweet smelling stuff like rich folks do by do beds, sos day kin sleep and fact is boss, I is jes financelly new deal unconscious".

Dr. Siler, of Calhoun City, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, preached here Sunday evening. It seems that country people are not as prompt to go to church as they should be. The day may come when they wish they had have been.

Shakespeare said, "comparisons are odious," probably so on the Avon, but not at Nebo. Speaking of giving Black Draught users privileges of running red lights in Grenada, beg to say, about forty years ago, there was a little innocent pill on market (and there maybe yet) named "bile beans". Twas about size of a navy bean, understand I am not trying to underestimate curative value of either these beans or B. D. but I'll say, for quick pick-up B. B.'s made B. D. look like a piker. The B. B. fought (or worked) under the black flag, it asked no quarter and gave none, and back in those days we had no streamlined bath tubs. Quick sanitary laundries and sweet soothing soap chips, but it was old time lye soap, and unlike today's soaps which are kind to the skin. It was cruel to the human hide. People those days had bilious fever, and dosed accordingly, so we suggest that now even B. B.'s should have an even break with B. D.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New Orleans, April 23, 1940

To the Editor of the Grenada Weekly:

I'm a reporter 22 years old who just read your column of April 11 on the war.

It seems to me you express an honest and sound viewpoint very lucidly, and I just wanted to write you and say you have an admirer here.

It was particularly interesting to me to note your remark about England. Our sympathies are with the Allies, most of us, but I think too many people forget that this is after all an old game over there.

The German and English people have not changed. We would probably like the average man of either country if we met him. But the big shots who do the behind-the-scenes maneuvering have not changed either, and we may suppise, I think, that the stories they are telling today of German atrocities are as exaggeraled as they were last time.

Which you said much better.

So, keep up the good work. I don't want to go to war against fasism and lots of others like me don't—for the same reason—that we believe fascism thrives on war-devastated countries—on people stirred up by war psychology.

It seems to us the fight for democracy is to fight to keep American out of it, to preserve the democracy we have.

Sincerely,
MIKE AMRINE,
Reporter, New Orleans Item

Got a big kick out of your Black Draught piece too.

We still lack quite a few of having 80 per centum of the people on our mailing list, and almost despair of ever getting that many, for we expect folks to pay for the GCW.

Mrs. Milfard Gilmore, who used to be a mighty handsome gal when she lived in Grenada years ago, has been added to the mailing list, thru a gift subscription from Mrs. J. W. Jordan whom Mrs. Gilmore recently visited. Our valued new subscriber used to be Miss Elva Winter. She now lives in Oak Park, Ill.

To preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War

—From the Preamble to the Constitution of The American Legion

Honorable, armed service to their country, in time of war, formed the basis for memorable incidents in which the World War veteran takes just pride. In countless thousands of meetings every year members of the Legion are giving expression to this principle. If you are eligible—join. It's a privilege that can't be purchased.

It is hardly possible that we could ever forget them. Whether we served on foreigng soil or remained in camp here at home the incidents and memories of service life are very much a part of our living and thinking. The extent and variety of our war experience determine the richness of iur present memories.

Those who have seen patients in veterans' hospitals kniw the strength of thi appeal. The memiries and incidents of the Great War are often the topic of conversation among the boys of 1917-1918 who are unfortunate enough to need hospitalization. To hose permanently disabled the war will never be over. Our war memories remind us that the first duty of the Legion is to be continuously alert in helping these unfortunate comrades secure the medical care and compensation to which they are entitled.

U. S. Treasury Buys Norges

According to J. H. Neely, president of Grenada Auto Company, local Norge dealers, the Procurement Division of the United States Treasury has contracted with Norge Division Borg-Warner Corporation to supply small small household type electric refrigerators of 4.1 cubic foot capacity to posts of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. The contract extends through January 31, and deliveries are to be made as requisitioned.

A contract also has been awarded Norge by the United States Air Corps for 58 special storage refrigerators ranging in capacity from 27 to 100 cubic feet. The storage units are required for American air fields on the continent, as well as in United States possessions. Delivery was made in March.

These installations, as well as the smaller refrigerators for the ground and naval forces, all employ the Norge Rollator compressor.

of interest to boys of this age.

(8) KNOTS—The boy must be able to tie packages, bow-knots, etc.

(9) ELECTIVES—To pass this requirement the Cub must select four electives from a special list given in his book. These electives include such varied subjects as secret codes, music, drawing, nature, reading, etc. The Cub has a list of 24 from which to chose.

After having attained the Wolf rank the Cub may either work for his Wolf Gold and Silver Arrow Points or he may start directly to work on his Bear rank. The Arrow Points signify that the Cub has done more detailed work on his rank. To obtain these Points he must pass 10 electives for each point desired.

The Bear rank is fundamently the same as the Wolf except that it goes deeper, and in much more detail, than the Wolf. Gold and Silver Arrow Point may be obytained for this rank, also.

The Lion and fnial rank deals mainly with work that will enable the Cub to know the fundamentals of the Scout work. He learns the Scout Law, Oath, etc.; and when this rank is completed, the Cub will have passed the biggest part of his Tenderfoot Scout requirements.
